JAPAN AMERICA SOCIETY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

PRESENTS:

WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP COUNTS

6TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE

FROM LOCKER ROOM TO C-SUITE

Increasing evidence shows that playing sports can transfer into your professional career, helping you become a better and more influential leader. Against the backdrop of the 2020 Tokyo Olympics, this year's conference will address the character traits and attributes that are common among great athletes and business leaders. The speakers will highlight leadership qualities that are both effective on and off the field, and share skills learned in athletics that have a direct workplace crossover.

MODERATOR

Royanne Doi

Global Legal, Ethics & Compliance Adviser for Yamaha Corporation

SPEAKERS

David Hendley

Vice President
Export Automobile Sales,
American Honda Motor Co., Inc.
Former Professional Football Player

Kelly Inouye-Perez

UCLA Head Softball Coach

Janelle Sasaki

Director, EY Japan
EY Women Athletes Business Network,
Japan Area Leader

Penny Toler

Executive Vice President &
General Manager
Los Angeles Sparks

NOVEMBER 7, 2019 (THURSDAY)

2:00-2:30PM- Registration
2:30-5:30PM- Program
5:30-6:30PM- Networking Reception

InterContinental Los Angeles Century City at Beverly Hills
2151 Avenue of the Stars, Los Angeles, CA 90067

Register Today: https://jas-socal.org/Women

JAS/Cooperating Organization Members: $70

Guest of JAS/Cooperating Organization Members: $80

Non-Members: $90

Admission + new 1-year Individual JAS Membership ($75 value) : $110

Contact JAS for information on Corporate Sponsorships

Presenting Partner GOLD Global Organization for Leadership and Diversity

Gold Sponsor ARATANI foundation

Silver Sponsors InterContinental Los Angeles Century City at Beverly Hills · Sanders Charitable Fund · SoCalGas A Sempra Energy utility