Tour Itinerary

Day 1, Sat., September 6 – Los Angeles International Airport

Overnight flight, crossing the International Date Line to Tokyo, arriving at Narita Airport at 5:00pm, Sunday, September 7.

Change planes for one hour flight to Sendai. Overnight stay at Hotel Metropolitan Sendai, or similar hotel.

Day 2, Mon., September 8 – Hanamaki - Hiraizumi – Ofunato

After breakfast, we will take East Japan Railway Company (JR East) shinkansen “bullet train” at 11:30am, arriving in Hanamaki City at 12:40pm.

An English speaking guide will meet members and transfer to the airport to join other tour members (arriving from Sapporo by plane).

We will go by motor coach to Hiraizumi City to visit Chusonji Temple, Tohoku’s first UNESCO recognized World Heritage Site. Founded in 850, Chusonji is home to Konjiki-do (Golden Hall), which recreates an “ideal Buddhist world” in this world, and Motsuji Temple, famous for its Jodo (Pure Land) garden, one of Japan’s most beautiful gardens.

We will then go to Ofunato City for dinner and overnight stay at Ryokan Koyokan, a traditional Japanese inn and onsen (Japanese bath) rebuilt after the tsunami.

During dinner at Ryokan Koyokan, we will be joined by Satoshi Kitahama, a long-term and dedicated volunteer to the recovery of the region. He is also founder and representative director of Kizuna Foundation. Dr. Unoura, father of JAS Governor, Masako Unoura Tanaka, and two influential city council members of Ofunato will join us and provide an update on the region’s recovery process.

Day 3, Tue., September 9 – Ofunato - Rikuzentakata - Sendai

After a traditional breakfast at Ryokan Koyokan, we will go by motor coach to nearby Ryori Fishery.

Thanks to Satoshi Kitahama and Kizuna Foundation, the JASSC 2011 Japan Relief Fund was able to make a $70,000 donation to help rebuild Ryori Fishery, its pier and supporting buildings. The donation was matched 8:1, resulting in total donation of $560,000. Today, Ryori Fishery supports more than 500 fishing boats, thus, more than 500 families. We will witness fishing operations and meet with leaders from Ryori Fishery Cooperative.

We will then visit the Ofunato Fire Department, which worked with the LA County Fire Department's Search & Rescue Team immediately after the disaster.

Lunch will be included at one of the kasetsu (temporary building) restaurants in Ofunato. Following lunch we will visit Sakari Elementary and Ofunato Junior High schools. A combined $50,000 donation from JASSC and the Asia America Symphony Association replaced music instruments lost in the tsunami. The students will perform for us!

We will then travel through Rikuzentakata City, one of the most severely devastated cities. 1,700 citizens perished and many more are still missing. Over 3,300 buildings were either completely or partially destroyed. Included in the buildings washed away or ruined are the city hall, library, museum, gymnasium, civic center, hospital, pre-schools, day care centers, elementary schools, middle schools, high schools, parks, fire department, and more.

Once home to 70,000 beautiful, 300 year-old cedar trees, Rikuzentakata lost all but one. We will visit the remaining “Tree of Hope”, a poignant symbol for Tohoku's recovery.

We will then pass through Kesenuma, where JAS Governor, Masako Unoura Tanaka, miraculously survived the tsunami. Then on to Ichinoseki.

From Ichinoseki, we will take JR East shinkansen to Sendai City and check into the Hotel Metropolitan Sendai, or similar hotel.

Day 4, Wed., September 10 – Sendai - Ishinomaki

After breakfast, we will visit Arahama Elementary School, where 300 citizens and students escaped the tsunami on its rooftop. Every other surrounding building was swept away. We will also visit a nearby memorial on the beach of Arahama.

Ms. Momoyo Kaijima, founding member of ArchiAid, will join us as a second guide. ArchiAid is an international network of architects and universities that is working to help the recovery of Tohoku. Kaijima was instrumental in the development of the “Core House”, a permanent, sound and comfortable living structure for those who lost their homes in the tsunami. The award-winning Core House was supported by a $50,000 donation from the JASSC 2011 Japan Relief Fund.

With Kaijima as our guide, we will visit Hamaguri Hama fishing village, once home to nine fishing families. Only two families remain. We will meet with Takakazu Kameyama, a young man who lost his wife and child to the tsunami. He decided to move back to his home village, and his vision and plans both are an inspiration and a template for other struggling small fishing villages. We will enjoy lunch at his new café and learn more about recovery among smaller fishing villages. After lunch, we will visit and enjoy traditional Japanese tea at the very first Core House in Momonoura Hama fishing village.

Core House in Momonoura Hama

We will visit a “Taylor Anderson Book Corner” or Taylor Bunko, at Mangokuura Elementary School. JAS made a $50,000 donation to support the Taylor Anderson Memorial Fund. — Taylor Anderson was an assistant English Teacher at Mangokuura Elementary School. After the earthquake, she helped comfort the students and stayed with them until they were picked up by parents. She was last seen riding her bicycle to her apartment. We will be joined by the Taylor Anderson Memorial Fund’s Board Representative, Mihoko Terada. Also joining us is Shinichi Endo, a master wood craftsman who builds Taylor Bunko special shelving. Tragically, Endo lost all three of his children. Two of his children were students of Taylor Anderson. We will visit Endo’s “Memorial” to his children, a large wood bridge for children to play on and enjoy.

Day 5, Thu., September 11 – Sendai - Tokyo

After breakfast, we will visit Rinnoji Temple, founded in 1441. It includes a beautiful Japanese garden and pagoda well worth visiting. Enjoy the inner gardens, walk along the various paths, admire the koi fish, the three-storied pagoda and the well-tended trees, flowers and plants. There are also areas sit and relax as you take in the scenery.

Lunch on your own, then travel to Fukushima City by JR East shinkansen. We will be joined by Patrick Newell, Tokyo-based entrepreneur and founder of Living Dreams. Living Dreams is the nonprofit, all volunteer organization JAS has worked with to support two children’s homes (“orphanages”) in Fukushima – Aoba Gakuen, home to 55 children, and Fukushima Aiikuen, home to 92 children, ages 2 to 18.

We will visit Fukushima Aiikuen (FA) children’s home, meet with leaders and staff, and tour the home. While the grounds are safe today, for two years after 3.11, children had to stay indoors due to the contamination from the crippled nuclear power plant. Thanks to a grant from TOMODACHI, in July 2013 and again in July 2014, JAS was able to provide a life-changing exchange experience for eight FA children. The children were “pioneers” as the first to travel overseas in FA’s 121 year history. We will meet with some of the children.

We will then take JR East shinkansen to Tokyo. On arrival, we will enjoy transfer to the Imperial Hotel Tokyo.

Day 6, Fri, September 12 – Tokyo

For our early risers, we will provide a visit to Tsukiji Fish Market, one of the largest wholesale food markets of any kind.

Other meetings we are working to confirm include -

- Briefing at the Embassy of the United State of America, and courtesy meeting with U.S. Ambassador Caroline Kennedy (to be confirmed)
- Visit and tour of Japan External Trade Organization headquarters
- Ministry of Foreign Affairs meeting with Director-General Junichi Ihara, past Consul General of Japan in Los Angeles. Ihara is now in charge of Japan's relationship with North Korea, South Korea and China (meeting pending world events).
- We will also do our best to accommodate requests for other meetings or visits to areas of interest in Tokyo.

Day 7, Sat. September 13 – Tokyo

Imperial Hotel Tokyo Lobby

In the evening, you will enjoy a special JAS Friendship Reception at the Imperial Hotel Tokyo. All of JAS's past members who have returned to Japan will be invited to join, include past Consuls General to LA, business leaders and friends.

Saturday during the day, we can arrange visits and activities on a case-by-case basis, once we know the make-up of our tour participants.

Day 8, Sun. September 14 – Narita International Airport

Board your flight to Los Angeles, crossing back over the International Date Line, arriving in Los Angeles on September 14; gaining back the day we lost on the flight to Tokyo.
